Purveyors of inspired food & drink

At The Fine Food Forager, we hand pick unique fine foods made from premium, organic and natural ingredients, that are ethically produced, and exceptionally tasty, naturally. We supply to like-minded restaurants, retailers and zero waste shops around the UK.

We believe however that taste and tradition cannot come at a high cost to the environment and for that reason we only work with artisans and independent producers who share our values in supporting sustainability in their practices and who use plastic-free, biodegradable or recyclable packaging.

To this end, we apply conscious based sourcing principles in how we curate our range, championing passionate artisan producers who strive to minimise their environmental impact on the planet and promote biodiversity, without compromising quality and enjoyment.

Organic Maple Syrup - Single Estate Bag in Box & retail bottles

Our organic maple syrup is a natural product which contains neither colourants, nor additives and which is made from sugar maple sap.

Located in Quebec, Canada, the Erabliere Escuminac enjoys a unique climate and terroir.

This centuries-old sugarwood, located less than 5 km from the sea, is swept by the salty air of the Atlantic Ocean, which brings a subtle saltiness to the syrups.

At the start of the season, the syrup is generally clear and the taste is slightly sweet. As the season progresses, it becomes darker and more caramelised.

Our Maple syrup and Birch syrup have been selected as original ingredients by the gastronomic Chefs, pastry chefs and mixologists in Canada, USA and France.

- 100% natural
- Single origin (No Blend)
- Direct from the maple grove
- Mid-season Grade A harvest
- Great Taste Award winner

Raw British Honey Tubs & retail jars

With hives across the beautiful English countryside and working with traditional beekeepers, The London Honey Company are purveyors of the finest, single origin honeys.

Light in colour, Borage Honey is a unique, delicate yet distinctive honey.

Kent Beach Honey is complex in flavour, produced by established hives in a natural wildlife reserve in Kent, renowned for its flora and fauna.

Featuring notes of citrus and elderflower, the Oxfordshire Honey is made by bees from sites across the countryside in the Cotswolds including organic farmland.

Each of the raw, natural honeys encapsulates the variety of the British isles landscapes.

London Urban Honey

Closed loop refill & retail jars

The bees that produce the unique and delicious honey in Pearly Queen's jars forage all over London city.

The honey from each local London hive offers a different taste; all raw with no blending or treatment.

Pearly Queen's ambition is to protect bees and help educate the public about these wonderful creatures and their alarming decline.

Each part of London has its own distinct flavour and taste, the light floral Hackney or the nutty hue of Dulwich.

All of our honey is natural, and not blended. It is exactly how the bees have made it and contain traces of naturally occurring good bacteria and pollen in unique mixes found no where else on the planet!

- Raw (Unpasteurised)
- Minimally filtered so retaining its natural properties
- Selection of London urban honeys from local beekeepers

Organic Plant-based Spread Retail jars

Nettle creates delicious, original and deceptively simple plant-based spreads using whole organic ingredients and unique methods of fermentation.

Organic nuts and spring water are blended together and fermented using a five-strain live culture to develop their signature flavours. Once cured, a variety of spices and seasonings are added.

Consumers are seeking minimally processed, nutrient-dense and environmentally sustainable. Made in small batches following a zero-waste policy, Nettle is packed full of pre-biotics and probiotics.

The vegan range includes raw, activated cashew soft che*ses, macadamia and cashew pâtés, each adding creaminess, acidity, and depth of flavour to any dish, and delicious on their own as a condiment.

- Organic & Natural ingredients only - no artificial preservatives
- Gut healthy - natural prebiotic and live probiotics
- Sustainable - small batch production and zero waste processes
- Great Taste Award winner

CHOCOLATE TREE

We partnered with 'Chocolate Tree' Scottish small batch award winning craft chocolate maker. Alastair and Friederike established their workshop in 2005 and are all about dedication to responsible and authentic sourcing of cacao from agroforestry.

They source their cacao directly from farms that are using agroforestry techniques. This means preserving and increasing biodiversity, ensuring we are making a positive impact on the environment.

Alastair has also joined a TEDx talk on cacao agroforestry in October 2019 in Glasgow.

Organic certified and ethically traded cacao ensuring sustainable agriculture and the preservation of biodiversity for future generations.

Extra Virgin Olive Oil & Olives Tin, Bottles & Jars

HONEST TOIL

Our sustainable extra virgin olive oil comes from a small producer based south of Kyparissia directly from small Messinian farms on the west coast of the Peloponnese in Greece.

Sustainability is paramount in each aspect of production. The olives used come exclusively from small family farms, and are hand-harvested using traditional methods, without unnecessary strain on the tree or the disruption of wildlife. The olives are pressed in the family-owned village press and the oil is packed locally.

The oil is completely unfiltered, so once pressed, it isn't put through any additional processes. Everything is pressed the same day it's picked and produces an oil with an acidity between 0.2-0.3%. It's also completely unblended: unlike most "extra virgin olive oil" found on supermarket shelves, it really is small-batch production, and isn't mixed with lesser oils or oil from previous harvests.

- 100% Koroneiki from Greece (Western Peloponnese)
- Natural, unblended and unfiltered
- Cold pressed and small batch production
- Low acidity 0.21% & High level of polyphenol

From our family grove and those of a handful of our neighbours, we pick to make the bulk of our oil at a village press, which supports local jobs, local farmers and the traditional olive harvest.
Cold pressed from hand-picked olives, we do not add anything, just the olives themselves, and leaving with the unique goodness of freshly pressed olives.
The taste is smooth and thick, the texture is pure, simply delicious.

Soy Sauce & Tamari Bag in box & Jerrycan

Our soy sauces are naturally brewed with over 100 days fermentation and GMO-free to ensure their full aroma and complexity of flavours.

Our range includes three types of traditional and authentic soy sauces: Superior Light, Superior Dark and Tamari Gluten-free.

We offer two soy sauces from Japan, Superior Dark & Gluten Free and two soy sauces from Southern China, Superior Light and Superior Dark.

Light soy sauces are thinner and lighter in color than Dark soy sauces which tend to be thicker and slightly richer.

Tamari is a Japanese soy sauce brewed with soybeans and no wheat.

- Authentic superior quality & flavour with over 100 days fermentation
- Naturally brewed & GMO-free

Fermented Vinegars & Ponzu Sauces

Retail bottles

Skilled craftsman Seiji Kosaka relies on three generations of family experience to create Marusho fermented vinegars using the same techniques that were employed 200 years ago. Fermented and aged for 90 to 500 days in Japanese cedar wood casks the vinegars are made with rice grown on the family estate, water from the Kumano mountains and only the highest quality natural ingredients.

The Ledbury and the three Michelin star Gordon Ramsay at Royal Hospital Road are just two top restaurants using these fermented and exquisitely flavoured vinegars on their current menus.

Marusho ponzu sauces are made with the fresh juice of Japanese citrus fruits.

Authentic, natural and high quality ingredients like shiitake mushroom, bonito soup stock, kombu seaweed, honjoso shoyu (soy sauce) and hon mirin (Japanese sweet cooking sake) provide the distinctive citrus zing backed up and balanced with a deep umami flavour.

Chefs from The Fat Duck, Sat Bains and Mark Hix use our ponzuses and vinegars on their menus in a variety of ways: marinades, dips, dressings and sauces. Join the pros and deliver the authentic flavour of Japanese cuisine to your dishes.

Smoked Salt

Bulk bags & retail boxes

Our range of whiskey-smoked salts come from an environmentally-focused producer in the west of Scotland, who invest in carbon-offsetting new foresting in the west of Scotland.

The multi-award-winning triple-filtered Atlantic Sea salt is smoked using whisky cask oak sourced from Scottish distilleries.

The wood used in the smokehouse started life as an ancient American Oak tree. Each cask was then charred on the inside and used in Bourbon production, before being recycled and shipped to one of Scotland's world-famous distilleries.

The light crystal flakes are perfect for absorbing all the warmth and sweetness of the smoky aromas, to produce a Whiskey Smoked Black Garlic Salt and a Whiskey Smoked Chilli Salt.

- Artisan producer from Scotland
- Triple filtered, small batch Atlantic salt
- Free from preservatives
- Unique sea salt smoked using aged whisky casks from Scottish distilleries
- Great Taste Awards winner 3 Stars (Black garlic salt) & 2 Stars (Chilli salt)

Handcrafted Gin Bottles

Small-batch artisan gins from the Surrey Hills.

Hidden Curiosities Aranami – Navy Strength Gin 59%

Powerful yet super silky and smooth navy strength gin. Bursting with flavour from 20 botanicals, including 7 specifically sourced from Japan.

Waves of bright citrus from Japanese yuzu, tingling spice from lemony sansho pepper, followed by mouth-watering marmalade notes from kabosu and kumquat. Japanese sour plum and fragrant Furano Lavender are blended harmoniously together with salted cherry blossom.

Hidden Curiosities Original – London Dry Gin 42%

A complex yet self-assured gin, featuring the fragrant spices of 5 distinctive peppercorns and green cardamom, inducing an aromatic warmth to the palate, balanced out with a cornucopia of bright citrus fruits, including pink grapefruit, bergamot and lime.

These assertive botanicals are softened with a sweet burst of white mulberries, curiously finished off with the delicate floral notes of violet and lavender.
